Drafting Solutions

FOR FIRMS AND BUSINESSES WITH IN-HOUSE PATENT COUNSEL

The First of its Kind

AccessPatent is a legal process outsourcing group that provides patent drafting services to law firms and businesses with in-house patent counsel. We specialize in drafting high-quality patent specifications and providing patent drawings to attorneys and agents with excess work and tight deadlines.

While legal processes such as document review have been outsourced for several years, AccessPatent is the first company to specialize in outsourcing patent specification and figure drafting in the United States.

We work to customize our drafting to your requirements. We know that each attorney and agent have different drafting style and focus. Our agents work to form a relationship with each attorney and agent, so that our work is ready to be reviewed and submitted to the USPTO.

Flat-fee to help with your patent docket

For many clients, patent drafting has changed over the past several years to become a commodity service. Clients expect the same level of service at a lower, more-predictable price, often on a shorter time frame. Many clients are also asking for flat-fee arrangements that provide more predictable legal fees. AccessPatent can help you meet your clients expectations by taking your client's invention disclosure, drafting a preliminary draft of the patent application, and delivering that draft to your patent attorneys and agents for their review.

We step in to provide a service in which we specialize, patent specification drafting, so that you can focus on what you do best, providing legal judgement and counseling.

Then, you are able to provide patent drafting services to your clients at a lower fee, placing you ahead of your competition.
